Responses Overview

Closed

Responses	Average Time	Duration
28	03:26	7 Days

1. Which description best fits you? (Select all that apply)

I am curious about AI tools but have not tried much yet	4
I regularly use AI tools for work, study or personal tasks	21
I have tried running AI tools locally or self-hosting a service	4
I am a parent or guardian of a secondary-school-aged young person	4
I teach, support, or lead digital learning in a secondary school	0
Other	2

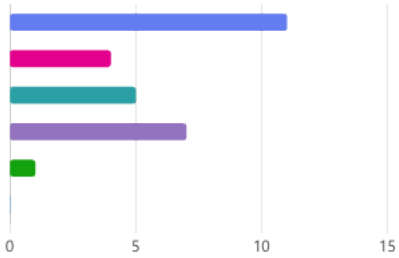

2. What AI tools, if any, have you used in the past six months? (Select all that apply)

Chat-based AI tools, such as ChatGPT or Copilot	26
AI built into search, office, or creative software	12
Voice assistants or home automation	5
Locally run AI or self-hosted tools	4
I have not used an AI tool in the past six months	1
Other	2

3. When a digital tool asks for access to information, devices, files or accounts, what do you usually do first? (Select one)

Review what access is requested and why	11
Check the privacy or security information first	4
Allow access if I trust the tool or provider	5
Decline access unless it is clearly necessary	7
Ask someone I trust for advice	1
I am not sure what to check	0

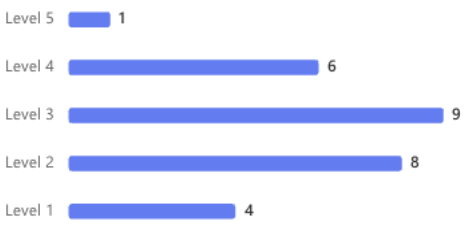

4. How confident do you feel making decisions about privacy and security settings in AI or digital tools?
1 = Not at all confident; 5 = Very confident

2.71

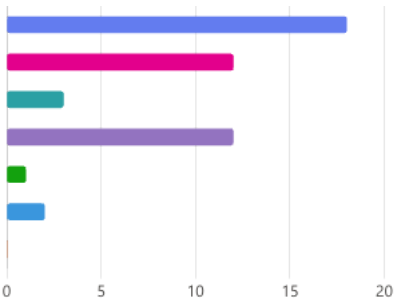

Average Rating

1 2 3 4 5

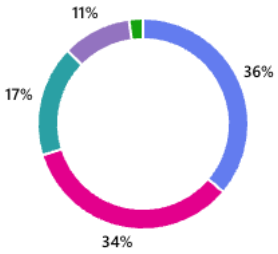

5. What would help you feel more informed or in control when trying a new AI tool? (Select up to two)

A plain-language explanation of what it can access	18
A safe way to try it with limited permissions	12
Step-by-step guidance or advice from someone I trust	3
Clear privacy, data-use and cost information	12
Parent, teacher or organisation oversight controls	1
Nothing in particular	2
Other	0

6. For secondary-school-aged young people, where do you think AI tools are most likely to be helpful, if anywhere? (Select up to two)

Learning and study support, at home or school	17
Digital literacy and understanding AI	16
Accessibility or additional learning support	8
I do not think they are currently appropriate in secondary education	5
Unsure	1

7. Is there anything else you would like us to understand about AI tools in everyday life, at home, or in secondary education?

13
Responses

Latest Responses

"I worry about energy usage and AI - particularly in Ireland where we have opened..."

"I think ai is great if its used the right way"

"How AI will be used in the workplace going forward. Outside of the tech industry"

• • •